

3rd podium in 3 days & Fuyu still in the lead

Wednesday, 09 January 2008

Homeboy Annuar Manam again showed he is hard to beat in his home country. He won his second stage in a row. The weight of the race was on the shoulders of the Trek – Marco Polo Cycling Team again of course and the team defended Fuyu’s leading jersey very well. A group of 16 got up the road, but was not allowed more than 1 minute 30.

In a joined effort with Manam’s L2A team, Trek – Marco Polo managed to get another bunch sprint, thus giving Fuyu another day in the lead.

Sergey could not finish it off with a win, but got the team a third podium in 3 days!!
