

Tour of Malaysia, Kudentsov 3,2,

Thursday, 11 January 2007

In the Jelajah Tour of Malaysia, our Russian sprinter Sergey Kudentsov is warming up. Coming from cold Russia where he trained at his mountainbike, he started his racing in the Tour of South China Sea. After some training in Malaysia, he started the Tour of Malaysia with a 7th place in stage one. The stages of the past days he became 3rd, 2nd and what will he get next stage...

Also the rest of the Discovery Channel Marco Polo Team is doing well. The team is getting along really well and working very good together. Unfortunately our rider for GC Thijs Zonneveld got sick, but we are confident he will be fit again for the upcoming races. Chinese riders Yu Tong and Xing Yan Dong are going strong and are top 25 in GC where we also find Pol Nabben. Loh Sea Keong is doing great work as domestique.

We hope Sergey will manage the next step on the podium in the last stage, the criterium in Kuala Lumpur!
